Nordskog Publishing, Inc. opens new doors in the Christian book publishing world:
Meaty, Tasty, and Easily Digestible Theological Offerings
Ventura, CA – December 5, 2007

After 37 years of publishing POWERBOAT Magazine, Gerald ("Jerry") Christian Nordskog enters into the Christian book publishing industry. The company, Nordskog Publishing, Inc., is in the process of launching its first four titles in time for this Christmas season.

"Our publishing venture will concentrate on true stories, heroes of faith portraits, and timely, easy-to-read subjects for Christians who want to live out their faith as salt and light in our culture. With the enabling of The Holy Spirit, we want to help Christians be history-makers, not just history-watchers," says Nordskog.

NPI kicks off the Christmas season with four titles:

- The Fear of God: A Forgotten Doctrine by Dr. Arnold Frank
- A Whole New World : The Gospel According to Revelation by Greg Uttinger
- God's Ten Commandments : Yesterday, Today, Forever by Dr. Francis Nigel Lee
- The Battle of Lexington : A Sermon and Eyewitness Narrative by Rev. Jonas Clark.

Nordskog will publish moral and ethical books to advance the gospel of Jesus Christ and His kingdom principles in the United States of America – the first Christian Constitutional Republic in the history of the world – in Australia and China, and eventually worldwide .

NPI is a member of the Christian Small Publishers Association and is distributed by Ingram. To learn more about Nordskog Publishing, its team, authors and book please visit the newly launched website: <http://www.nordskogpublishing.com/>
